Open meeting to exchange experiences on the difficult and happy moments of a culturally diverse everyday family life.

Raising children in an intercultural setting implies offering guidance while developing an inter-cultural identity and lifestyle. This thematic evening event will provide you with information on issues possibly relevant for the upbringing of your child, such as promoting multilingualism, interreligious education or protection against racist mobbing. In a confidential setting, single parents will get a chance to unburden themselves and strengthen their self-esteem as well as their own problem-solving expertise.
